Required off-campus event modifications

The following event modifications are in effect:

- Venues should agree to follow state and local health guidelines in force on the date of the event.
- Event organizers should follow state and local health guidelines in force on the date of the event, and recognize that CWSL has the right modify or cancel an event at any time.
- Contracts signed with venues should contain force majeure clauses that allow cancellation and refund or rescheduling if state and local health guidance dictates that the event cannot be held.
