

Summer 2025 Calendar Update

California Western will be moving to a semester-based calendar with a 10-week summer term. Although the fall and spring terms will remain 13 weeks in length, the start dates and end dates of the term will differ slightly from prior years. For example, Spring 2025 classes will not begin until after Martin Luther King Day in January. See the Academic Calendar online, which reflects these changes.

Please note that the change to the 10-week summer will not begin until Summer 2025. The Summer 2024 term will remain 12 weeks in length.

- Summer 2025 Term Duration – Beginning Summer 2025, the summer term will be reduced from the current summer term length of 12 weeks to 10 weeks.
 - Summer 2025 Class will begin later in May.
 - A tentative Summer 2025 Schedule will be available in October during Fall registration.
- Summer 2025 Enrollment Status – Summer will now be defined as an elective term that is shorter in length; therefore, students can enroll in a minimum of one (1) unit up to a maximum of ten (10) units for the term.
 - For academic, enrollment certification, and aid eligibility:
 - A full-time student is defined as enrolled for a minimum of six (6) and a maximum of ten (10) units.
 - A part-time student is defined as enrolled for a minimum of three (3) units and a maximum of five (5) units.
 - To receive financial aid, a student must be enrolled in at least three (3) units.
 - For questions about these enrollment caps, please contact academicaffairs@cwsl.edu
- Summer 2025 Tuition – Students will be charged on a per-unit basis for the summer term.
 - The per unit rate for the Summer 2025 term will be $2,840.00 per unit.
- Scholarships – Currently enrolled students (students that matriculated before Fall 2024) with scholarship awards will continue to have scholarship eligibility in all 3 semesters- fall, spring, and summer.

Please consider these changes as you plan for the coming summer trimester and the 2024-2025 academic year.
